Zenith City Press publisher Tony Dierckins has worked in the publishing industry since 1988 as an editor, advertising copy writer, book designer, author, and publisher. He has helped dozens of individuals and organizations publish books (see list below). His thirty years of experience will provide you with sound advice and services to help you produce, market, and sell your book.

PUBLISHING CONSULTATION

Before you get started publishing your own book, you should know what you are getting into. With our one-hour publishing consultation, you'll sit down with Tony Dierckins and describe your project and its goals and he will provide you with guidance and ideas of how to proceed. And if you hire us to design and layout your book, our consultation fee will be waived.

COST: $75

EDITORIAL SERVICES

We work with experienced editors and proofreaders to make your book the professional product you want it to be. Our editorial colleagues provide a variety of services, including copy editing (grammar, punctuation, numeral usage), content editing (structure, consistency), proofreading (spelling, punctuation), and indexing.

COST: $15-$35/hour; flat fees negotiated (fees vary with service, scope of project, provider, etc.)

INTERIOR & COVER LAYOUT & DESIGN

To be a success, your self-published book better not look like it was self published—and so it is important to not just hire any graphic designer, but someone who specializes in book design. We have been designing books inside and out since 1996, including novels, collections of poetry and short stories, nonfiction books, children's books, photographer's collections, and the award-winning illustrated history books published by Zenith City Press and many others.

COST: Each book is different, so we custom quote each project

PRINT BROKERING

If you hire us to execute your book's design and layout, we'll help you find the best book manufacturer—and not just any printer—to produce your book at the lowest price we can find.

COST: $50
